

I have a big test tomorrow! I need help studying so I remember everything and get a good grade.

I am not feeling very well
and I need some healing.

I am not so sure of which activity to do after school
and I need help deciding.

I love freedom and I want to help people in other nations have their freedom
too.

I am riding my bike and notice a big hole in the pavement. I hope I can swerve around it or stop
before I go into it!

There is someone at school that bothers me. I want to be able to be nicer
and feel more loving.

I can see that my grandmother needs more help around her house
and her yard. I wish I felt more like serving.

I am high up a tree and I am not sure how to get down safely.

My mother is sick. I want her to feel better. I want to ask heaven's help for her to feel better.

When I get to middle school I get to choose come of my own classes. What do I want to study?

I have an assignment to write a report. I want to make sure I do a good job and use my mind well.

I am having a hard time forgiving someone for something they said that hurt my feelings. I want to learn to forgive.

I want to invent something that the masters want to release to help mankind.

I see in the news a big hurricane is coming I want to help to stop it.

I had a hard day and I am not feeling very good about myself.

I hear so many different ideas and I want to make sure to understand what is true.

Sometimes I get busy working on school and my chores and I don't feel very joyful.

Sometimes I feel afraid of silly things. I want to overcome my fear.

I want to make sure I fulfill my divine plan and get the right kind of education and preparation.

I know I have lived many times. I want to transmute old records so my soul will be free.

Sometimes my brother and I get into fights. I wish we could be more harmonious.

One of my friends seems to be sad. I want to ask the angels to help him be happy.

Sometimes I get very angry at people. I want to learn to control the anger and overcome it.

My room is a mess! I need to get my things organized better so I can find what I am looking for.